

JONATHAN LAW

Partnerships & Knowledge Officer at the Yarra
Riverkeeper Association
OFC Communications Coordinator

“ Sustainability is learning from the past, enjoying but critiquing the now and always preparing for the future. ”

Equal lover of both concrete and green jungles, OFC Communications Coordinator Jonathan is an environmental and sustainability professional passionate about linking nature to physical well being. Currently working at the Yarra Riverkeeper Association as the Partnerships & Knowledge Officer, Jonathan's work experience covers a diverse range of disciplines including research, consulting, stakeholder engagement, fundraising, grant writing, project proposal and education.

Jonathan holds a Master of Environment from University of Melbourne, complemented by Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor Science from Monash University, with certificates in Mandarin Chinese and Korean from Shanghai International Studies University and Seoul National University respectively. He has worked and volunteered on various research projects in Australia, Singapore, Malaysia, South Korea and China covering public consultation, nature-based solutions and wildlife ecology.

Jonathan is committed to giving back to the community as much as possible, previously volunteering and working for a diverse variety of organisations such as RSPCA, Australian Conservation Foundation, Med Moves, Flare Dance Ensemble, MOVE Exchange, and various multicultural committees to assist with recent immigrant integration. His commitment to both the community and the environment has been recognised through awards such as Keep Victoria Beautiful and Young Victorian Achievers.

In his spare time, Jonathan enjoys exploring parks, listening to scary story podcasts and practicing and teaching dance, having competed and performed in various competitions and productions both locally and overseas. One day he would love to go on an Indian Safari!
